

WHAT'S ON IN ART ?

Christmas Remembrance Service

Over the last few weeks, the students of Wandin North Primary have been involved in a very special project. We teamed up with the staff of Tobin Brothers Funerals to provide a collection of artwork for their Christmas Memorial Service.

My mother, Melissa Laird, runs this service every year for anyone in the community who wishes to remember their loved ones who have passed in the festive season. Due to Covid-19, their service this year was pre-recorded and will be shared online.

The students of Wandin North created a wall of beautiful artwork to be the backdrop for filming. My own children were involved in the service, as well as the children and grandchildren of a few other staff members.

The staff were delighted with the art created by our students and were very grateful for their contribution. The Christmas Memorial Service will be available soon. I will send out the link via Flexibuzz next week for anyone who wishes to view the service to remember their loved ones, or simply see the wonderful work of our students.
